Schafer Extends a Midwestern Pentegra Exec's Reach

John Low, a regional director for Pentegra Retirement Services covering Michigan, southern Indiana, southern Illinois, and Missouri, expanding his territory as a seven-year veteran leaves.

Mike Wyant, vice president of sales and regional director for Pentegra covering Ohio, West Virginia, and Kentucky, has left to co-found a new venture, 401kWire has learned. John Schafer, vice president and national sales director at Pentegra, confirms that Low's role at Pentegra has expanded to cover Wyant's old territory, too.

Wyant did not return a call for comment.

Low joined Pentegra several years ago. Before that, Low worked for Transamerica as a regional vice president and at Nationwide Financial as an internal retirement plan consultant and regional vice president. (Schafer cited Low's experience at Nationwide as one factor in the expansion of Low's Pentegra role.) He earned his BSBA in finance from Bowling Green State University.
